His address was confined entirely to the agricultural problem. His depart for a federal farm board was applauded warmly. Then, when he had concluded, there was an informal respiton around the rostrum during which apparently every legislator present, a number of state officials, and scores from the gallery shook hands and talked with the speaker.

The temporary heat shown by the Coolidge supporters when Senator John C. Schumann of Watertown introduced the resolution for the Lowden interior of it was unanimous, apparently had died out. The stalwarts joined with La Follette legislators and various types of progressives in the distance of friendiiness.

LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

LE QUATORZE JUILLET! July 14! Then, friends, today let us once more tear down that dear Bastille. It was torn down (or should we say abassed, you know, "A bas la Bastille!) very thoroughly one hundred and thirtyeight years ago today, but the French, with the nost enthusiastic support from American tourists and stray Britishers, always tear it down afresh

ach recurring July 14. Allons! A la Bastille! Hop on a subway train, and no matter where you are in Paris, you'll soon be at the Bastille Get off at the Bastille station. Climb up the steps, buy some confetti, and as soon as you get out in the air begin to cheer-cheer for anybody you feel like; Cal, Al Smith, Charley Dawes, Big Bill, light wines and beer, anybody or anything, just so that every now and then you throw in something about ee-bair-taih, eh-gal-ee-taih, frah-tehr-nee-taih.

There isn't a stone of the Bastille left in placethe mob saw to that. But, anyhow, we can celebrate. First we must get into the right mood. This is done by visiting a little restaurant hard by called Les Quatre Sergeants de la Rochelle, and it's at 3 Boulevard Beaumarchajs. That's the big street that comes in at the north end of the Place de la Bastille. You get into the spirit of the occasion better at the Four Sergeants of Rochelle's restaurant than almost anywhere else, because the Four Sergeants of Rochelle had a lot to do with charging the Bastille and tearing it down. Just what the Four Sergeants of Rochelle did nobody seems to know, but it must have been a-plenty. Anyhow, the restaurant named after them has a great supply of vin ordinaire as well as bottled wine of noble vintage, and after drinking the health of the Four Sergeants and asking, "Who won the war?" and answering with "The Four Sergeants of Rochelle," then you can go out and sing the Marseillaise.

Everybody is singing or else howling, "Liberté, Egalité, Fraternité! " which, of course, mean Liberty, Equality, Fraternity, and are pronounced leebair-taih, eh-gal-ee-taih, frah-tehr nee-aih. And step on those taiks and step on 'em hard!

But let us get away from the noise so that we can read all about the Fall of the Bastille. Over on the west side of the Place de la Bastille is the Café Boffinger, on the Rue de la Bastille. The Boffinger is a BRASSERIE! What, then, is a brasserie? A brasserie, dear children, is a beer saloon, Many cafés and restaurants in Paris do not sell such a common, vulgar drink as beer; they have only the gracious wine. But when a restaurant says it's a brasserie they are telling the world right out loud that they sell BEER and are proud of it. Here, besides beer, we can get a nice luncheon of things such as choucroute, homards, coques, pieds de moutons, and things like that. (You do too know what those things are! They're sauerkraut, lobsters, scallops, and sheeps' trotters.) But first a

It is BEER, cold, lovely, beautiful BEER! You sit there in that cool, dark room in the Rue de la Bastille and you tell the garçon to bring you another-this time to make it Munich bock. Munich bock beer! And the Munich bock beer arrives as yellow as gold in the big glass stein and with the thick white foam tremise expected on Nashville. A special when nothing is going east or west, and the stop lights, being senseless, cannot glass stein and with the thick white foam trembling joyously on the top!

"EVERYTHING KNOWN IN MUSIC"

... except that one of your competitors has a stock in ATLANTA ··· "

ERE is a letter that tells, in one sentence, why more than 900 of America's outstanding concerns have put branches in Atlanta. Here is a story of business conditions as they are today, and as they will be tomorrow and for many years to come.

Industry Must Decentralize

Here is a typical vindication of the economist who says-"No longer can industry hope to serve the entire country from any one point, however centrally located. Branches must be established at strategic points in each major market, from which to serve the trade as it now demands to be served."

The South is America's fastest growing market. In ten years its purchasing power has more than trebled. Year by year Southern income rises as industrial growth and diversified agriculture make a resilient and prosperous section.

Distribution City

Because of its rail facilities, Atlanta is stribution City to this market. From here, men and merchandise are most economically and efficiently routed to the entire territory. This fact, plus other vital economies, has brought to Atlanta more Southern Headquarters than have come to any two or three other Southern

Low Cost Production

From a production stanapoint, the Atlanta Industrial Area offers a solution to the problem of profits in this modern competitive situation. Fundamental economies widen the margin between cost and selling price. Efficient Anglo-Saxon labor, low taxes, plentiful and cheap raw materials, power at rates that compare with the lowest in the country, building costs, 20% to 35% below those in other sections, - these are a few of the outstanding advantages of Atlanta location.

Get the Facts

The Atlanta Industrial Bureau is organized to gather, without charge or obligation, accurate data on conditions in this section as they apply specifically to your business. A letter from you will start a survey, conducted in the strictest confidence, and for your eyes only, which will show you whether or not you can afford to get along without an Atlanta Branch pearls to a loop jeweler for valuation. He was offered $20 and when he refused, it was said, the jeweler called a policeman. Judge Fetzer, when the case came before him at that time wanted to know where the necklace had gone. He continued the case so that he could find out.

Lieut. Thomas McFarland explained vesterday to the judge that the neck-lace was in the hands of the police custodian and that if no one claimed it in six months, it would be sold and the proceeds turned over to the county clerk. Kyriakos' attorney asserted ings to recover the necklace.

The recital by Jean Carlson, soprano, WQJ, 10:30 to 10:35, was as good as anything in this line. Her's is a very clear and youthful voice, not large, but very pleasing and high—high C being executed with great ease.

The monthly recital of duos and solos by Frederick Newell Wood, tenor, and Burt Squire, baritone, WMAQ, 9 to 9:45, was the same quiet, dignified, and high class concert that we have learned to expect from these singers. Their voices register well on the air. Mr. Wood's voice is nothing less than beautiful, and he uses it to lovely effect, while Mr. Squire gives us songs of heavier weight.

The revcomer, a baritone, is Cosperitor of the state of the will be heard tonight in a half and heavier weight.

Sally Baker Hewitt's piano recital, WMAQ, 8:30 to 9, gave radio recital analysists something new to ponder over. The program consisted of slow tempo, heavy pieces throughout, and the playing characteristic was of a similar character. Perhaps she is an introspective interpreter, sacrificing exact tempo and rhythym to stress momentary tonal effects.

Franklyn Bauer, tenor soloist on the weekly WJZ-KYW 8 to 9 orchestral program, was in ideal form last evening. Evidently this singer, already well known by radio audiences, is destined to be still better and more favorably known. The orchestra program was altogether enjoyable.

In the last ten years woman has progressed forty years

... she uses tons of face powder

but in ten years she has reduced the infant death rate 30%

She uses tons of rouge, lipstick and face powder. She cuts her hair, plucks her eyebrows. She goes to Congress . . . clubs . . . and golf tournaments. Yet with all her frivolities and activities, her ensible care of her babies has reduced the infant death rate thirty per cent in the last ten years.

This splendid achievement is due to the fact that the modern mother has at her elbow much scientific information than her mother had. And she has more time in which to study and apply it.

There are a number of mediums that contribute to the knowledge of the modern mother, but chief among them are the woman's magazines.

Constantly alert to the demand for dependable help and guidance, the woman's magazines have gone to authoritative sources and secured the most advanced information, passing it along to readers in such a way that it could be easily understood and applied./

They have also made it possible for women to devote more serious attention to such matters as child health, by promoting the use of labor-saving devices and thus providing more time for reading and for study.

Among the woman's magazines that have lon been vitally concerned with the salvation of infan and child life is McCall's. No other magazine has been more earnest in its efforts to secure for its readers the most authentic information on this important subject. Among the eminent specialists who write for McCall's are Dr. Charles Gilmore Kerley, distinguished pediatrist of New York Dr. E. V. McCollum of Baltimore, whose work in dietetics is known the world over; Angelo Patri, consulting educator and authority on child train ing; and John B. Watson, noted psychologist and author of "Behaviorism."

This department of McCall's is but one of many that go deep into the practical side of its readers needs. Reading through McCall's will quick! convince you that McCall's knows in the mos intimate way exactly what the modern woman finds most helpful and interesting. Jones Nearly Breaks Record.

Thousands Crowd Course.

It was a mighty punch, and the fact that it did not break his shaft speaks well for American club makers. The people cheered wildly, but Bobby, quite unperturbed, strode forward as though it was one of his easiest shots. Two putts gave him a 4.

The 16th and 17th were just mechanical fours. A three at the 18th, which is 364 yards long, would mean a record of the course. All St. Andrews seemed to have heard of Bobby's wonderful progress. They crowded round the last green in thousands, and when Bobby reached within 18 feet of the pin with his second shot they all held their breath. Bobby took no longer time than usual. He just surveyed the line, struck the hall firmly, and it trickled past, two inches wide. With a four he had equaled the record of the course.

Wild Bill Mehlhorn went out in 40, but saved himself partially by getting 37 on the homeward trip.

With the exception of a 7 and a It was all fours. It seems impossible for a man with 16 fours on his card to return a 77 but he managed it. His tragedy was at the second where he took a 7 due to a sliced drive into the rough. A bold second took him to a bunker and it cost him 3 strokes to get out of it. At the 14th his second landed him in a bunker, and although he came out well it took him 4 each the green with luck all agains

Senor Dr. J. M. Guerrera, President of the Municipal Council of Call, summarines as followed

Call is the capital of the Department of Cauca Valley and the commercial, financial and railroad center of one of the richest and most rapidly developing regions of Colombia, embracing the Departments of Caldas, Cauca Valley and Cauca. This region, due to the opening of the Panama Canal and the building of the Pacific and Caldas Railways, has the best transportation facilities in Colombia and direct rail connection to the sea through the port of Buenaventura. Call is the concentration point of this railway mileage and a distribution center for the import, export and local trade of this region. The estimated population of the municipality is 84,000. The region is a rich agricultural district situated between the western and central ranges of the Colombian Andes and extending approximately 280 miles from the southern boundary of the Department of Cauca northward into the Department of Caldas. Its chief products are sugar, coffee, excas, cotton, tobacco, wheat, rice, corn and beans. cotton, tobacco, wheat, rice, corn and bes

Purpose The proceeds of this issue will be used to retire all outstanding in (amounting to less than $675,000), for enlarging and improving the and for other productive purposes.

These bonds will be the direct obligations of the Municipality of Call and will be specifically

By a first lien and mortgage on the water works and on the principal items of improved real and personal property owned by the Municipality. This lien and mortgage will also include all improvements and additions to these municipal properties and all other property of a similar character which may be acquired or constructed, whether out of the proceeds of this loan or out of other funds.

Money Rates Continue Easy.

Money conditions remained easy, but it was not the favorable character of the weekly steel review that gave Wall itreet its stimulus for the aggressive operations. Financial experts gave it as their view that the high car loadings are in a measure responsible for the buying of railroad shares at this time. The precedent of 12 consecutive weeks in which loadings have exceeded 1,000,000 cars this early in the season has attracted wide attention.

Fifteen-Year 61/2% Sinking Fund Gold Debentures

Mr. Dudley M. Dorman, President of the Company, has summarized his letter to us as follows:

BUSINESS AND PROPERTY: California Dairies, Inc. has been incorporated under the laws of the State of Maryland to acquire the businesses and assets of Crescent Maryland to acquire the businesses and assets of Crescent Creamery Company and L. J. Christopher Company (except, in the case of the former company, certain non-producing property and certain real estate which will be leased for a term of years), two established manufacturers and distributors of dairy products in Los Angeles. The new Company will be a large distributor of ice cream in the territory in and about Los Angeles and will also engage in the manufacture of powdered milk and the wholesale and retail distribution of milk, cream, butter, cottage cheese and buttermilk. Bringing together under a single ownership the properties of these two companies should result in many operating economies and perfect a closely result in many operating economies and perfect a closely knit, well-rounded organization engaged in diversified lines of business, each line augmenting and supplementing the other.

The entire common stock of this company has been acquired by the Western Dairy Products Company, which is engaged in manufacturing and distributing ice cream, powdered milk, sweetened condensed milk and butter and distributing milk and cream and fountain supplies, its operations being confined to the states of Washington and Oregon and being so conducted that it has built up a self-contained organization for the manufacture and distribution of its products within the borders of each of these states.

California Dairies, Inc. and Western Dairy Products Company will, through this arrangement, each derive the benefits of the wide experience and highly efficient managerial ability which have played so large a part in the remarkable success of the businesses in their respective

New York Water Service Corporation

First Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds, Series A

Noyes & Co., Inc., at over $2,800,000.

Business: The properties comprising the New York Water Service Corporation System supply various communities in New York State with water for domestic and industrial purposes. The total population of the territory is estimated to be approximately 485,000. The localities served include the Flatbush and Woodhaven sections of New York City, Haverstraw, Grassy Point, Stony Point, Seneca Falls, Waterloo, Norwich, and numerous communities suburban to Syracuse. White Plains and North White Plains are served at wholesale. The proceeds of the sale of these Bonds will be used for additions and betterments made and to be made and towards the acquisition of the Huntington and Glen Cove properties on Long Island.

Security: This issue of First Mortgage Bonds, of which $8,500,000 will be outstanding upon completion of this financing, constitutes the only funded indebtedness of the New York Water Service Corporation System, and is, in the opinion of counsel, secured by a direct first mortgage on all the physical properties of the Corporation and its subsidiaries comprising the System, consisting of land, buildings, water mains, reservoirs, pumping stations and other equipment. The value of the property under this mortgage, as appraised by various engineering firms, on the basis of reproduction cost less depreciation plus additions and improvements made and to be made from the proceeds of this financing, is in excess of $15,000,000. The ninety-four acres of land owned in New York City alone have been appraised by Charles F.

Earnings: The consolidated earnings of the properties are reported as follows:

Management: The New York Water Service Corporation System is operated by the Federal Water Service Corporation, which controls and operates one of the largest groups of water works systems in the United States. The New York Water Service Corporation System thus has the benefits of an expert technical and operating staff, long experienced in the water works field.

HUDSON excels HUDSON itself

This new companion invention adds a further step in efficiency by actually converting hitherto wasted heat into useful power.

With the Super-Six Principle, which converts to useful power, energy that in other types is lost in vibration, the new Hudson invention combines the highest efficiency in power, smoothness and long motor life ever achieved within our knowledge.

Added Fuel Economy-Greater Power-Steam Engine Smoothness

In all previous types of automobile motors a high percentage of the power of the fuels is lost in heat thrown away in the exhaust and cooling waters.

Now On

Display

HUDSON SUPER-SIX

The new Hudson motor gives the snap and performance of the high compression type without sacrifice of flexibility and smoothness.

Spark knock is positively prevented. Regular gasoline gives the performance sought, in other types, through the use of special and costly fuels. The cold motor starts with the same snap you get from other types in midsummer. You don't have to wait for or nurse your motor while it warms up.

Oil dilution is prevented. Greater power, speed and fuel economy are obtained. Every phase of performance is brilliantly better. These two Hudson inventions give a performance and reliability supremacy that are immediately and continuously apparent whether you drive your Hudson a city block or a hundred thousand miles. You need but a single demonstration to give you such a conviction of superiority as you never experienced in any automobile.

LITTLE THINGS MAKE LIFE SO GAY

Dr. Butler's Lantern Fails to Disclose a

LONDON, July 13.-[U.P.]-For the first time in 2,000 years, the world is Gathers Plaudits without a great man, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia Murray Butler, president of Columbia university said today.

Dr. Butler has seen his share of men called great. One of them, with whom he talked on his present tour of Europe, was Benito Mussolini, Italy's one-man government.

Yet he said:

"For 2,000 years past there never was a period when somewhere in the world there was not a really great poet, philosopher, or genius of some sort who dwarfed his fellow men.

"Never before has the world been convulsed by a great war without some great man emerging from the struggle. The last war produced a number of distinctly able men, military and civil; but they are in groups.

None dwarfs the other.

"I do not pretend to know the explanation. Perhaps the intelligence and the standard of knowledge of the public has attained so high a level that the great no longer look great—as when the plains rise the mountains look erroll.

"The rapidity of the advance of science and invention is astounding It is impossible to visualize conditions of life as they will be ten years hence Indeed, if we of the older generation could tell our grandfathers of some things we now treat as commonplace they would laugh at us in scorn."

Public Is Ready for Sadder Movies, Says Warner, Going East

Warner, Going East
The public isn't really so dumb. It is often the motion picture producer who, in his insistence upon giving the public what he thinks the public ought to want, who is responsible for so many sappy endings in screen presentations of novels that, in the original, were made of solider stuff.
This was the word of H. B. Warner, now of Hollywood. Mr. Warner, his s year old daughter, Joan, and half a dozen screen actors arrived in Chicago yesterday morning on The Chief over the Santa Fe and left on the Century for New York where they sail tomorrow for England to film scenes from "Sorrel and Son."
And it was of the sad ending of "Sorrel and Son" that Mr. Warner spoke specifically when he blamed producers for turning even the most classical tragedy into a "they lived happy forever after" ending.

White City Today! Sally's Circus Party Is Due Next Thursday BY SALLY JOY BROWN. Good morning, White City winners Are you set for a glorious time at our party today?

I hope so, because it is going to b wonderful. White City has everything in readiness-rides, the chutes, a special performance of the Hippodrom Extravaganza, the Fun House, and lots of other things. We'll be going every minute, and every minute will be packed full of fun.

And that's the reason, too, why you must be on time. With so much to do and see you'll have to start right at the time your invitation says, and we can't wait for any tardy ones. But and no one will be late.

Are you wondering, as I am, who the lucky hundred will be for our circus party at Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey, a week from today I have had so many good letters it will be hard to choose. And what a variety of things everybody likes! The trained animals—the menagerie—the trapeze performers—the jugglers—the West show—each one was liked best by some one. But most of the girls and boys like all the circus best!

Here are some of the good letters: "My Dear Miss Brown: I would love to see the circus because I have The wedding of Miss Lucy Eleanor never seen a circus. My mother told Briggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James me about it. She says it is lots of fun. Ellis Briggs of Briardale-on-Hudson, I would like to see every one of the N. Y., to Tracy L. The Youngest Belle Wears Tailored Belts by Corinne Lows NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—It's really wonderful how we can size up present modes—all the way from 6 years to 60. Hardly is way from 6 years to 60. Hardly is there a detail of fashion too subtle or too sophisticated to escape the attention of the creator of juvenile styles. And as a result we see these miniature frocks set off with the most artful of boleros, geometric banding, plaits, flares and ruffles.

carrying it too far. I don't believe in making children "soft." I don't believe in teaching them to place too souch importance on physical discomfarts. I believe they should learn to buck up and develop a certain amount of stamina and self-control as far as pain is concerned. But carrying it too far is apt to develop too many inhibitions. Sometimes we're apt to forget that children are human, too.
